WILL ECLIPSE ANY REVIVAL

LOCAL BOOSTERS PREDICT SUCH SUCCESS FOR CAMPAIGN.

62,000 ATTENDANCE COUNTED TO DATE

Enthusiasts Say That 2,500 Will Be "Lined Up" at the Finish—Last Week of Service.

"Lined up" yesterday	250
"Lined up" to date	1,645
Attendance yesterday	10,700
Attendance to date	62,300

With 1,645 persons "lined up" the third and last week of the Dr. Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic campaign, it is predicted by local boosters, will eclipse any revival in the history of northwestern Missouri.

Dr. Scoville preached to 19,000 persons at the morning service, men's meeting and evening service yesterday and 1,200 women attended a women's meeting at the First Christian church. About 4,000 persons, forming the largest crowd that ever attended a revival meeting in Maryville, packed the tent-tabernacle and stood up around the sides last night. About 62,000 have attended to date.

Town Full of Visitors.

Hundreds of automobiles were parked for blocks in all directions, and all day yesterday the city was full of out of town visitors. Many drove as far as fifty miles to hear Dr. Scoville. A total of 250 went forward in response to the invitations and local enthusiasts are predicting a finish with more than 2,500.

No fewer than half of those who have gone forward are converts, persons who are returning to the church after being outside, and persons who are joining by letters.

"A remarkable record for only two weeks," said a prominent man.

County Day Saturday saw a crowd of 400 at the morning service, more than 1,000 in the afternoon and more than 3,000 in the evening. Easily 3,500 attended yesterday morning, no fewer than 2,000 in the afternoon and then came last night's banner crowd with a banner service.

Choir Singing Effective.

The choir sang with intense feeling. The songs swept over the throng and it seemed that with the choir's spirit as the incentive everybody sang. Musical Director Forsythe directed in the singing of "He Loves Me So," a song that made a decided impression. Mr. Forsythe sang the "Old Fashioned Faith" upon request as he sang it at the men's meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Arlene Dux Scoville, in singing a solo, "I Want to Go There," put the crowd in excellent shape to hear the evangelist's famous sermon on infidelity.

Dr. Scoville did not mince matters. He scorched the unbeliever and the skeptic, called them names and defied answers to his arguments.

"I defy any old infidel this side of hell to come up here and prove that what I say is not true," he roared.

He walked across the platform several times, his eyes flashing fire, and had some one questioned him then and there the excitement would have been

To hell with a religion that denies Jesus and Calvary.

Sow booze and you reap drunks; sow dances and you reap harlots; sow cards and you reap gamblers.

If the devil can get a woman to fall he will try to make her the most popular woman in town.

You might as well try to climb up and dynamite the sun as to try to oppose the Almighty God.

Evolution without God is as silly as the statement of Sambo that he knew a shotgun ever since it was a little pistol.

It must be comforting to the infidels to think that their great-great-greatgrandpas and grandmas hung by their tails and picked lice out of each other's heads.

"Bill" Taft never should have been elected president of a Christian nation, because he's a Unitarian.

Not one single living infidel today is big enough to be known outside his own city.

Never pretend to be what you are not, then you will never be ashamed of what you are.

If foreigners come here to be Americanized all right; if they come here to foreignize America then make 'em beat it quick!

He was cordially received and his talk on the unification of the two branches was vigorously applauded. He said that the sentiment for consolidation was strong among the members of his church. It is the opinion of many that a united Methodist church would be the most potent religious factor in the Protestant world. Bishop Quayle in his response said: "The proposition of unification is now up to the Methodist Episcopal church, South."

Twenty-five bishops, five ministers and five laymen from each branch of the Methodist church compose the commission on federation which will hold its first meeting in December.

Summoned by Judge Ryan in St. Joseph Today to Investigate Charge —Prosecutor in Jail There.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 25.—Oscar D. McDaniel, prosecuting attorney of Buchanan county, was arrested in this city last night, charged with the murder of his wife, Harriet Moss McDaniel, who was found dying in her bedroom at their home the night of July 14 last.

Mrs. McDaniel had been beaten over the head apparently with some blunt instrument and never regained consciousness. Mr. McDaniel returned from a trip downtown in his auto, where he said he had been called by a fake telephone message, and gave the alarm. Several shots were fired on his return. The prosecutor declared a strange party had fired sevral times at him and he had emptied his revolver in return. No trace of the parties, however, have been secured.

The information charging Mr. McDaniel with the murder was sworn to by Bart M. Lockwood, a special prosecutor. McDaniel only laughed when the warrant charging him with premeditated murder was served.

He was taken into custody at 8:55 o'clock by Detectives Maney and Henley, and after an examination by detectives was locked in a cell.

Upon application of Special Prosecutor Lockwood, Judge Ryan of the criminal court this morning summoned a special grand jury to investigate the charge of murder placed against Oscar McDaniel. Witnesses who didn't appear before the coroner's jury will figure prominently, according to Lockwood.

The report that Mrs. McDaniel made statement before her death was not confirmed or denied by Lockwood. He also refused to state whether a wit-

SIMPSON FINISHES SECOND

Fred Murray, Star Hurdler of San Francisco is Believed to Have Set a New Record.

Special to the Democrat-Forum.

New York, Sept. 24.—Fred Murray, star hurdler of San Francisco, is believed to have set a new world's record for the 120-yard high hurdle race yesterday in the Athletic Club's meet at Travers Island. Four watches caught Murray at 14:2-5, which is one-fifth of a second faster than the record made by Robert Simpson of the University of Missouri. Simpson ran second in the race won by Murray.

The meet at Travers Island today was an exhibition affair between Simpson, Murray, Meredith and Loomis, the four A. A. U. Stars who are to sail for Northern Europe next week to compete in athletic events in Sweden, Denmark and Norway.

Coach Schulte said that yesterday he received a telegram from Simpson stating that he would run an exhibition race over the three foot hurdles. Over the regulation three-foot, six inch hurdles Murray's best previous time is fifteen seconds and Schulte thinks it highly improbable that the Californian should clip three-fifths of a second from his best former time.

Simpson left Columbia Thursday night and could not possibly have reached New York before noon yesterday. After a thirty-seven hour trip it is probable that he was not in the best condition for a race two hours after leaving the train.

Schulte is waiting for word from Simpson himself.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Vernon Nash to Sail for England Sept. 28—Here is What Troy Paper Says of Him.

Vernon Nash, formerly city editor of The Democrat-Forum, left Maryville Sunday evening, after a few days visit here. Mr. Nash went to Chicago and is intending to sail September 28 for England to begin his university course at Oxford, having won the Rhodes scholarship from this state.

Mr. Nash will send an occasional letter to The Democrat-Forum of that country.

The following is taken from the Troy, Mo., Free Press, where Mr. Nash has spent his vacation:

We have heard many compliments passed on the address made last Sunday evening at Troy Methodist church by Vernon Nash, son of Rev. and Mrs. I. T. Nash. He talked about the Christian man needed by the church of today and presented the subject in a logical and very interesting way. We regret that we missed hearing him.

CHANGE ENGLISH FUNERALS

War Economy Makes Difference in Fashion of Burial Rites—Everything Much Simpler.

London, Sept. 20.—War economy has changed the fashion in English funerals. They have become simpler. Protests are made against plumes, hearses, expensive soffins and other ornaments of the conventional burial.

The late Major Walton of Brighton ordered in his will that no gloves, hat bands, scarfs and cloaks, "or other disgusting paraphernalia of the undertaker" were to be worn at his funeral, and the horses were to be brown, bay, gray or chestnut.

An army colonel writing to the newspapers says: "A hearse is an abomination of stamped tin and tinsel."

London undertakers interviewed agreed that people are ordering less expensive funerals, but predicted a return to the old orded after the war.

THE PATH OF DUTY.

Do not let impending difficulties unman you, but face them bravely if they come. Oftentimes the hindrances that lie in the path of duty may be compared to the tollgates upon our turnpike roads; they are kept shut until we are just upon them and then fly open, as it were, of themselves. And that is true enough. If they had been open a week beforehand we could but have gone through at last.—John Newton.

CARRANZA DOES NOTHING

Soldiers Make No Effort to Interfere With the Villa or Legalista Bands, Americans Told.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Unassailable evidence from competent sources reached Washington today indicating that the Carranzista soldiers in northern Chihuahua are making no effort to interfere with the Villa or Legalista bands that are operating there.

This evidence is being passed on to the American members of the joint commission now meeting in New London to be used in bolstering up the refusal to withdraw the Pershing troops. Reports indicate that the bandit bands have large quantities of ammunition stored and that they are being supplied with machine guns.

WHAT A WAIT COST HIM

W. S. Linville Tells How W. G. Carpenter of B. J. Lost Out by Waiting Over Sunday.

The following is from the Skidmore News:

W. S. Linville, who was on the federal grand jury at St. Joseph this week, relates the following on W. G. Carpenter of Burlington Junction, who was also subpoenaed as a grand juror.

The federal court opened Monday morning in St. Joseph at 10 o'clock, and Mr. Carpenter, thinking that he would be there about as soon as court opened and probably further, not wishing to desecrate the Sabbath by attending to business on that day, concluded he would wait and go to St. Joseph on the train Monday morning.

Well, the train was late and when the federal grand jury was called so was Carpenter. A wait of half an hour or more and the list of jurors was called again and Carpenter was still absent.

But the train finally reached the city and Carpenter also, but when he reached the court room more than an hour late the very kind and just judge asked him what excuse he had to offer for keeping the wheels of justice from moving forward. When none, no not even one, were offered, the judge kindly said he did not like to fine him for his tardiness, but remarked to the effect that the grand jury panel was full but that there were vacancies in the petit jury and he would transfer Mr. Carpenter to that jury, further stating that the petit jury would probably be needed for ten days or two weeks while had he been there on time he would have been released from the grand jury services within two or three days.

M'DANIEL ARRESTED

ness to the murder was found.

Mr. Lockwood outlined as much of the state's case as he cared to reveal for the present.

It will be alleged that the McDaniels domestic relations long had been strained, and that Mrs. McDaniel had threatened to ask a divorce. It will be charged that McDaniel returned home about 10 o'clock, was reproached for this deception and other deceptions, and that his wife threatened public exposure, the quarrel having its climax in the murder.

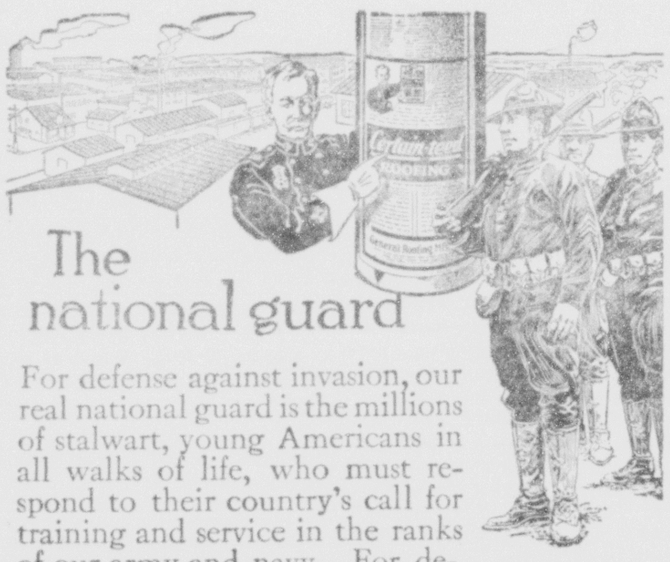
The telephone call from the saloon was McDaniels' invention and part of the plan to conceal the crime, the state will allege. It will be charged further that McDaniel left the house and himself fired all five of the shots heard by neighbors.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Herman, their nearest neighbor, will testify that she heard the screams at 10:45 o'clock and recognized the voice as that of Mrs. McDaniel. Mrs. Herman's bed room is only thirty feet away.

McDaniel testified that he talked with his wife after his return home the first time at 11:15 o'clock. At the inquest the screams were not positively identified.

"The case is conclusive," Mr. Lockwood said, "and will be based largely on the testimony of witnesses who were not heard at the inquest."

Miss Gertrude Estes of Upland, Cal., who is visiting relatives in Maryville, spent Sunday in Barnard.



The national guard

For defense against invasion, our real national guard is the millions of stalwart, young Americans in all walks of life, who must respond to their country's call for training and service in the ranks of our army and navy. For defense against invasion of the elements CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is the real "national guard".

Certain-teed

protects our buildings from the violence of storms; successfully resists the attacks of rain, hail, sleet and snow; is unaffected by the sharp assaults of frost, and the withering fire of mid-summer sun. It even withstands the ravages of time, for CERTAIN-TEED Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it will out-last the period of guarantee.

The long life of CERTAIN-TEED is due to the fact that it does not dry out, as ordinary roofing does. This is because it is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a blend of soft asphalts—the formula of the General's Board of Expert Chemists. This soft saturation is then covered with a coating of a harder blend of asphalts, which prevents the drying-out process, and keeps CERTAIN-TEED impervious to the elements for years after the harder, drier kinds of roofing have dried out and gone.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED Roofing for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

BOYS SCRAMBLE FOR COINS

Dr. Scoville Gives Youngsters Prizes for Best Answers to Questions—Girls Win, Too.

"Children, I hold in my hand a dime. The first one of you who comes and takes it can have it."

Dr. Charles Reign Scoville was sitting on the edge of the platform at the tent-tabernacle before several hundred youngsters Saturday afternoon. He held up the ten-cent piece so that all could see.

The youngsters gasped and for a moment not one moved. They did not believe him. Then suddenly a husky boy darted forward and seized the coin. Into his pocket it went.

"Well, one of you believed me, anyhow," smiled the evangelist.

The boy was Buster Strong, 10 years old.

When Dr. Scoville held up a penny with the same kind of challenge a moment later, the youngsters had a regular roll and tumble time of it trying to get to the front. They believed him then. The lucky boy was La Verne Robey, aged 10 years.

Dr. Scoville asked the preachers to be judges, and then he announced he would give a prize of 10 cents to the child naming the "worst sin." They named temper, stealing, drinking, lying, syearing, smoking, being mean, chewing, disobedience to teachers, murder, hurt another, cussing, hating Jesus, playing ball on Sunday, cheating, killing birds, going to movies on Sunday, hating mother and father, playing cards, hating Christians, quarreling, saying "I haven't time" and "Wait a minute," cruelty to animals and disobedience to parents.

Linda Sheridan, a prim little 9-year-old maiden, won the prize by naming the "worst sin" as disobedience to parents.

Ruth Bradley, 14 years old, was the only one who knew that the worm in the apple first gets on the bud and grows inside the apple.

"Which is the worst to find in an apple, a whole worm or a half worm?" smiled the evangelist, his eyes twinkling.

Instantly a tot responded, "A half worm." She knew that if a half worm was discovered it usually meant the other half had been eaten.

Lillian Hall, 15 years old, repeated a story told by Dr. Scoville to illustrate how a little boy broke every commandment but one, and was presented with a glass as a souvenir. Della May Overmire, 11 years old, was also given a prize for her knowledge of the Ten Commandments.

Forty-eight of the children lined up for Christ in response to the evangelist's invitation. The first to go forward was Emerson Naff, 13 years old; the second Dorrell S. Pennington, aged 7 years, and the third Dorothy Grundy, aged 10.

Dr. Scoville showed the children how alcohol will cook the white of an egg, told them stories and showed them a number of object lessons.

GOSPEL TEAM HAS SERVICE

Maryville Women Conduct Meeting Under Direction of Len D. Parker—53 Women "Line Up."

A gospel team of Maryville women under the direction of Lon D. Parker of the Charles Reign Scoville evangelistic party, conducted a meeting at the First Christian church yesterday at which fifty-three women "lined up" for Christ.

Mr. Parker, who has had marked success in gospel team work, picked eight to give testimanials of the power of Christ in their lives. Along with the eight several in the crowd of 1,200 gave brief testimonials.

Sobs were heard all over the house when one sweet faced woman arose and declared that her husband "lined up" yesterday morning at the tent-tabernacle after she had prayed for him for thirty-six years.

Before the service those on the team spent considerable time in prayer.

Among those who gave testimonials were Mrs. R. S. Braniger, Miss Anice Ingerson, Miss Stella Robinson of the Scoville party, Mrs. Alice R. Perrin, Miss Edna O'Neal, Mrs. George Null, Miss Dale Hulet, Miss Mayme Parrish.

Rev. Holliday and Rev. Hale offered prayer and Rev. Waldraven of the Scoville party led the singing. Brief talks were also made by Mr. Parker and the pastors, and Mr. Parker gave the invitation.

The guests played a number of new and interesting games. "Topsy turvy town," a game of twisted spellings was greatly enjoyed. Each guest was permitted to dress a tiny doll in crepe paper and keep it for her own. Colored puzzles and a number of romping games added greatly to the pleasure of the little guests.

The refreshments were served out-of-doors. The tables were festooned with colored paper, and each guest had a yellow candle at her place. Brilliant Social Affair.

200 Attend Tea At Terrace Place.

(By Kate Schenck.)

One of the most brilliant and beautiful social affairs and the inaugural event of the autumn activities in the society world was the tea given Saturday afternoon at Terrace Place by Mrs. Lavencour Michau, Mrs. Edward L. Townsend, Mrs. Luther E. Forsyth and Mrs. Ferdinand M. Townsend, when more than two hundred friends were bidden to meet Mrs. Robert King Townsend of Oklahoma City, Okla., a house guest at Terrace Place. Mrs. S. R. Beech of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Ernest Alexander of Medicine Lodge, Kan., shared the courtesies in the receiving line with the honor guest.

The reception and music rooms, magnificent in their furnishings without further adornment, were devoid of floral decorations. The musicale included solos by Mrs. Ralph Eversole, Mrs. Fred P. Robinson, Miss Lois Markham and Miss Jennie Garrett, two vocal numbers being given during each of the entertaining hour from 2:30 until 5:30 o'clock and a continuous piano and violin program during the interim of the vocal numbers by Miss Besse Scott and Mrs. W. F. Dreyer. Tea was served in the dining room where the American Beauty shades were used. A reed basket of the roses centered the dining table, and surrounding it were tall crystal candle sticks, whose tapers gleamed through the rose clusters. In the billiard room, where the ice course was served, the rainbow shades were used. The flowers were the brilliant hued autumn blooms in the varied shades. The ices were in the form of roses and rainbow shades were carried out in ices and confections. The many magnificent gowns worn by both the hostesses and assisting friends added to the splendor of the event and were the admiration of all the smart folks attending. The assisting friends were Mrs. V. W. Keene, Mrs. W. R. Smiley, Mrs. W. C. Ellison, Mrs. M. G. Tate, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode, Mrs. G. B. Baker, Mrs. Will F. Phares, Mrs. Cleve Funk, Mrs. Oliver Bovard, Mrs. Fay Bellows, Mrs. Hal T. Hooker, Mrs. J. F. Colby, Mrs. Ralph Eversole, Mrs. George Bellows, Mrs. Norman Chamberlain, Mrs. D. J. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Bellows, Mrs. E. F. Wolfert, Mrs. E. G. Orear, Mrs. M. L. Beattie, Mrs Joe Jackson, Jr,, Mrs. W. C. Pierce, Mrs. Edward Wright Gray, Mrs. S. G. Gillam, Mrs. G. L. The musicale was a very pleasurable one and introduced a new singer, Miss Lois Markham, who has a clear flute like soprano voice and is also a very charming girl. Miss Markham, is a daughter of Mrs. Norman Chamberlin and a grand niece of Mrs. R. K. Townsend. The Chamberlin family took up their residence here about eighteen months ago, coming from Oklahoma City.

Swings and hammocks were hung. The horseshoe and ball games were enjoyed by all. Several good readings and a dialogue were given. As the evening shadows began to fall they dispersed for their homes feeling that the day spent together was an added jewel in their chain of light moments.

at a breaking point. But no answer came and he poured volley after volley into the ranks of al lwho deny God.

Before the sermon started Dr. Scoville told the crowd with considerable feeling:

"A man is lying near death's door at the hospital. He is a resident here and Saturday was in good health. Illness forced him to the operating table and now his chances for recovery are slim. One of your partors has taken his confession of faith in Jesus Christ, and his wife's confession was taken. Pray for him."

Pray for Sick Man.

Rev. C. Emerson Miller, who took the confession, prayed fervently, and many in the audience prayed with him. Rev. Holliday offered an impressive prayer.

Another dramatic scene occurred Saturday night when a middle aged man, shaking from the effects of drinking, made his way to the front and whispered something to Dr. Scoville as they clasped hands.

"Tell the audience that," said Dr. Scoville. "That's great. Thank God for you, my friend."

The man turned and said rather falteringly:

"A week ago tonight I was in a saloon in Omaha until four o'clock in the morning."

Crowds Applaud Warmly.

The crowd applanded warmly and Dr. Scoville used the man's coming as an argument for other penitents. And they came!

Ninety-nine went forward Saturday night, and with ten in the girls' meeting it made a total of 109 for the day. Yesterday the total was 259.

"Take what you want, my unbelieving friend," said the evangelist in preaching on "Th Cross" yesterday mornin. "Ask the world if you want it. The gambler took the world. The drunkard, the prostitute, the libertine, the burglar, took the world. Take Christ if you want to live clean and pure.

"The Cross is the most powerful engine ever conceived. Through it this world can be saved. Behind it is the grave. Turn back the wheels of progress anywhere and you will find the grave. Sin is God's pest house."

Tells Harrowing Story.

Dr. Scoville told a story that sent shudders through the crowd to illustrate how Jesus must have felt as the iniquities of th world were heaped upon him while he hung on the cross.

"Jesus," he said, "cried, 'My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?' His persecutors fell down in fear.

"A missionary was once stripped by natives and thrust into a sack of poisonous snakes. It is said he gave vent to such an inhuman scream as the serpents struck their fangs into him than the natives ran away and never returned to that spot again."

"The difference between man and animal," he told the infidels, " is that God breathed into man the breath of life and man became a living soul. You can't have a watch without a maker, a plan without a planner, a thought without a thinker, a world without a creator. Nothing came by chance. God made everything and God rules all."

REVIVAL NOTES.

"Tricks of White Slavers and God's Women," sermon for women and girls only tonight.

Men and boys' meeting at First Methodist church. Waldraven, Parker, Forsythe and Miles of Scoville party and Charles W. Shull, manager of the Cross Reference Bible company will talk briefly.

Masonic night tomorrow night. Every Mason in Nodaway county is expected to attend. Odd Fellows night Wednesday night. It is requested that those Odd Fellows who plan to attend notify W. F. Smith.

Business girls' night tomorrow night also. They will meet at Third and Market streets with Mrs. Scoville and march to the tent-tabernacle in a body. Business girls' luncheons Wednesday and Thursday noons.

Dr. F. H. Broyler and a party of eight persons of Bethony, Mo., motored to Maryville yesterday morning to hear Dr. Scoville. The evangelist held a meeting in Bethany two years ago. It was there that Mrs. Scoville was stricken with typhoid fever.

Dr. Scoville caused a storm of applause in the men's meeting yesterday afternoon when he made some reference to the "four clean, Godly preachers in Maryville."

Rev. S. D. Harlan of the Graham and Palestine churches was on the platform yesterday morning. Myrtle Tree, Elmo, Ravenwood, Palestine and other towns and districts were represented by delegations, the members wearing badges. Many lined up at the invitation.

Country churches all over the county are expected to benefit by the Maryville revival, as a large number of those who have "lined up" live in the rural districts and sign cards marking church preference in one of the rural churches.

Rev. C. Emerson Miller of the Christian church announced that next Sunday's collection at the Christian Sunday school will go to the thank offering for Dr. Scoville and his party. The Baptist superintendent immediately announced that the Baptist school will do the same thing.

The singing of the big chorus choir under the direction of Musical Director Forsythe is attracting no little favorable comment. The choir last night sang "He Loved Me So" with such feeling that the audience seemed to cling to every word. Dr. Scoville says the Maryville choir has been one of the most potent factors for the success of the campaign. Besides singing nearly all the singers do personal work.

Charles W. Shull, manager of the Cross Reference Bible company of Chicago arrived yesterday. Mr. Shull is a Gideon, had traveled many years and is a live wire. Dr. Scoville introduced him to the crowd last night. Mr. Shull gives testimony for God wherever he can find a listener, and it is said has led scores of men to better things through his touch with them while on the road. He will be here during the week.

BIBLE TO FIRST BAPTIST

Attendance at Sunday School 656, a Gain of 405 Over September 3—Collection, $41.72.

The First Baptist Sunday school walked away with the contest among the schools for largest membership increase and largest percentage of increase yesterday. Dr. Charles Reign Scoville gave a Bible to the winner. The First Methodist Sunday school won last Sunday. The third and last contest will be next Sunday.

Rev. Hale preached his farewell sermon at the Sunday school hour, and this, the other schools good naturedly explained, accounts for the tremendous showing of the Baptists. Anyhow, the margin in favor of the Baptists was so great that there was no question.

Dr. Scoville is greatly pleased with the gain in the Sunday schools. Since he came the attendance in all schools has more than doubled, and tremendous interest is being manifested in the Sunday school work. The evangelist considers the Sunday school fully as important as the church services, and says every man, woman and child should go.

The attendance and collection of the schools for yesterday and for Sept. 3 was as follows:

Baptist—Sept. 24, attendance 656, collection $41.72; Sept. 3, attendance 251, collection $5.50. Gain 405.

First Christian—Sept. 24, attendance 517, collection $23.16; Sept. 3, attendance 250, collection $5.61. Gain 267.

First Methodist—Sept. 24, attendance 506; Sept. 3, attendance 245. Gain 261.

Presbyterian—Sept. 24, attendance 180, collection $9.10; Sept. 3, attendance 98, collection $2.26. Gain 82.

South Methodist—Sept. 24, attendance 170, colection $7.14; Sept. 3, attendance 129, collection $2.30. Gain 41.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The M. H. S. football team is progressing rapidly. Coach Schultz is getting a line on the men and is beginning to shape his team. The fight for first team positions is close, and no one has yet cinched his place. Enough men are out to form a first and a second team and scrimmage will be held all next week. Principal Magee is taking charge of the second team, and they will show the "varsity" a hot time.

Tarkio will come here Nov. 3. The big game of the season, the Thanksgiving game, will be played here with Stanberry. A practice game will be played with the Normal next Friday. The foot ball shoes ordered were received Friday and were put into use immediately. The suits are expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

Class meetings have ceased to be novelties in the high school. Meetings were held last week by every class, including even the lowly freshmen. According to reports, however, the freshmen turned out to be more of a "hen party" than a class meeting. The colors they chose—green and white—were particularly appropriate.

Heard in freshmen English:

Teacher—What is the plural of appendix?

"Greener"—Appendicitis.

If none of their members drop out, the beginning seniors will have the largest class ever graduated from the Maryville high school. The following are now members of the class: President, Russell Woodward; vice president, Marie Landfather; treasurer, Ernest Alexander, and secretary, Alma Mahoney; Leeta Wray, Lavisa Swinford, Martha James, Velma Appleby, Lillian Carpenter, Mary Wooldridge, Elfreida Linville, Marie Wright, Mildred Wamsley, Ruth Peterson, Maud Helpley, Leola Friede, Wave Hulet, Loma Bower, Mary Crowson, Cassie Abshire, Alta Doyle, Robert Groppe, Martin Lewis, Eugene Martin, Howard Martin, Eugene Yehle, Clarence Cook, Harry Holmes, Emmett Bartram, Ray Maul, Clark Evans, Harold Adle.

Assemblies will probably not be held more than once a week this year, according to Principal Magee. There was one assembly last week, Dr. Scoville being the speaker.

In German class:

Junior (translating)—The sun sat on top of the mountain.

(It was the president of the class, too.)

Will Hutchison, president of last spring's graduating class, now traveling for the Quayle Engraving Co., writes from Beardstown, Ill., that he is having fine success, and will be home soon to get an order from the M. H. S. senior classes.

Leland Leffler, a former member of the present advanced senior class, now residing in Lyndon, Kan., seems to have turned political sage. In a letter of recent date he writes:

"However, I did hear Hughes speak, and though I claim to affiliate with that notorious conglomeration commonly called the Republican party, I wasn't much smitten with his speech. It was a good speech, but he didn't arouse your enthusiasm life T. R. or even Bryan. Of course, the criticism of one's own candidate isn't done in the best Republican circles, so I must desist from further invectives."

While the sentiment expressed is not new, one must admit that "Giggle's" style is distinctly original.
